

I hope everyone had a great time during Thanksgiving spending time with friends and family. It is always a great time to reflect on the many things we are thankful for in our lives.

One of those things is a dedicated road crew. This month, crews have been working restlessly to complete Whitfield Road, while also expanding work in other areas. Last week, crews fixed King Road, under the overpass, while also cleaning up on 180th Street.

This week crews will be working on a three-mile stretch of 150th Street, south of Oklahoma 17. The road will be prepared for the oil-and-chip process, which will take place early next spring or summer.

Watts Road, west of Tony Creek Road, will have larger tin horns added this week to allow for more water to flow through during times of heavy rain. As it currently sits, the road is easily flooded, up to three feet, when the lake backs up.

Please pay attention to road signs and respect the workers on scene by traveling at or under the work zone speed limit. Thank you for your patience.
